

James Washington wants YOU for the Thousand for a 1000 Scholarship Drive

Dear Jarrett:

As Director of Development for the Office of Scholarships, I travel to work each day knowing that in some way I will positively impact a student's life - because I know personally the life changing opportunities that a scholarship provides.

And a student scholarship is as important as ever. Due to today's economic climate, many of UCLA's best and brightest students do not have the access or the equity to achieve their academic dreams.

Just five years ago, the cost for a California resident to attend UCLA was $18,540 per year. Today it's $31,908 - a 72% increase.

With this dramatic increase added to the other financial burdens facing Bruin students and parents, UCLA needs the support of people like you committed to academic excellence and innovation now more than ever.

That is why I partnered with UCLA's Black Alumni Association (UBAA), to help preserve the legacy of African-American students at UCLA, and create new academic opportunities by increasing scholarship resources to incoming African American students.

I strongly encourage you to be part of UBAA's "Thousand for a 1000 Scholarship Drive."

By bringing together a thousand people for a thousand dollars each, we can reach our goal of raising a million dollars for the UCLA Black Alumni Legacy Scholarship.

The money raised for scholarships will allow us to reward our best and brightest African American students for their hard work - and help recruit the best scholars in the world.

I look forward to you joining me today as a member of this winning team.

Sincerely,
